CM orders probe into Arjuna's death

- Controversy surrounding Dasara Jumbo's death deepens
- Memorials to be constructed in Hassan and Mysuru

Bengaluru / Mysuru, Dec. 6 (KMS, MTY & BCT)- Following demand from various quarters including the wildlife activists seeking a thorough and impartial investigation into the death of Dasara elephant Arjuna at Yeslur range forest in Hassan district on Dec. 4, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has said that he has ordered a probe into the jumbo's tragic death.

Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru this morning, Siddharamaiah said "I have already directed a probe into the circumstances that led to Arjuna's death in the wake of conflicting reports. The truth has to come out. I have also sought detailed information about the incident."

Expressing sorrow over Arjuna's demise and emphasising that the elephant should have lived longer, the Chief Minister stated that Arjuna had participated in the Jumboo Savari eight times by carrying 750-kg Golden Howdah with ease.

Siddharamaiah also remembered Arjuna's significant service to Goddess Chamundeshwari and the lasting image of his majestic walk amidst lakhs of people during the Dasara procession.

The CM told reporters that the State Government will construct a memorial at the site in the forest where 64-year-old Arjuna died fighting, as well as in H.D. Kote, Mysuru district, as Arjuna was captured in the last khedda operation at Kakanakote and was housed at Balle Camp, near H.D. Kote.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Forty-one workers, trapped for 17 days in an under-construction tunnel that collapsed due to a landslide in Silkyara, could at last be rescued. It should be appropriate at this point to pick some wisdom that the incident inspires. The best team, drawn from multiple agencies and globally reputed domain experts, brainstormed and planned the rescue operation. The fact that the operation involved not just rocks and debris, but human lives, made it sensitive and challenging. The best technology and the best equipment available were deployed. The US-made auger machine, considered a state-of-the-art driller, was tasked to needle through the debris a pipeline to improvise an escape-way. The machine did as well as it could, and went as far as it could. But the last mile, last pipe, posed problems. Technology and machinery failed and bowed out. The rescuers were at their wit's end. At last, who did they turn to? Rat-hole miners — the poorly paid, manual workers who are skilled in burrowing in narrow space and rocks, using hand-held tools.

And what a feat these rat-hole miners accomplished!

This brings to mind what the Hindi poet, Rahim, said. In a popular doha, Rahim cautions that things grand should not blind us to shun things small and lowly. To drive home his point, he posits a rhetorical question: where a needle is needed, he asks, can a sword serve instead? The sword may have its own brave use; but so too the tiny needle. The sword is not superior to the needle; nor is the needle inferior. Each is unique.

The terms superior and inferior are not absolute. They are relative; related to the need of the moment and their ability to serve that specific need. This truth extends to all worldly assets, and all social positions. To miss this point, to get embroiled in false notions of importance, leads us to a muddled value system and consequent miseries, on personal and social planes.

From the mightiest emperor down to the tiniest blade of grass, everyone and everything has a specific function in life, and is invested with a calibre tailored to this end. Emerson, has a poem titled The Mountain and the Squirrel. The two, he says, had a quarrel. The mountain, in pride, called the squirrel, 'Little Prig'. The squirrel coolly retorted: "True, I am not so large as you, but nor are you so small as I."

The squirrel elaborated on its point: "Talents differ; all is well and wisely put; If I cannot carry forests on my back, neither can you crack a nut." The auger machine could do big deeds, but not what the rat-hole miners did. The rat-hole miners, again, could not have done what the machine did. The poem states: "All sorts of things and weather/ Must be taken in together/ To make up a year/ And a sphere." Hence, a thousand names for God!

NEWS SPARKLERS

Bird steals buck hair to build its nest

Eastern Cape: This oxpecker took advantage of a good friendship when it started stealing hair from a buck that could do nothing about it. The unique sighting was captured on camera by 29-year-old Cameron Schmidt, assistant head ranger at Pumba Private Game Reserve in South Africa.

Cameron Schmidt, with a decade of experience in guiding, shares the story: "The oxpecker seemed to be collecting nesting material from the impala. Usually, oxpeckers and impalas have a symbiotic relationship where both benefit. However, in this case, it appeared slightly parasitic since the impala was losing hair without any apparent gain. Unless, of course, it's shedding for the summer, which could mean the bird is actually helping it."

Tortoise Jonathan celebrates his 191st birthday

Seychelles: The world's oldest living land animal, a tortoise named Jonathan, celebrated his 191st birthday on the island of St. Helena — but he might be much older.

Jonathan's exact age is unknown, but he was at least 50 years old when he was brought to the island from the Seychelles in 1882, making him at least 191 years old, and possibly much older, Guinness World Records (GWR) announced.

"In spite of losing his sense of smell and being virtually blind from cataracts, his appetite remains keen. He is still being hand-fed once a week with a fortifying helping of fruit and vegetables by a small, dedicated team. This not only supplements his calories but provides those essential drivers of his metabolism: vitamins, minerals, and trace elements," veterinarian Joe Hollins told GWR. Jonathan has lived at Plantation House, the residence of St. Helena's Governor for 141 years.

Non-functional traffic signal at Vishwamanava Double Road junction

Sir,

Of late, there has been an increase in the volume of traffic at the Vishwamanava Double Road junction.

Many people travel on this road during the evening peak hours. Some people even drive on the wrong side of the road.

Traffic signal lights are installed at this junction but they are not working properly since a long time.

Hence, I request the authorities concerned to make the signal lights functional and also install road humps to control the speed of the vehicles.

Adivasis protest near DC Office, demand rehabilitation

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (GA&DM)- Seeking rehabilitation for the displaced Adivasi families of Nagarahole National Park, members of Budakattu Krishikara Sangha, Adivasi Girijana Mahila Sangha, Karnataka Dalita Chaluvali Nava Nirmana Vedike, Adijambava Sangha and DEED Organisation staged a demonstration in front of the Deputy Commissioner's Office in Siddarthanagar here yesterday.

Addressing the protestors, Adivasi leader B.S. Vittal Nanachi said that Adivasis and tribals residing in Nagarahole National Park were displaced in the name of wildlife. But they were not provided rehabilitation as per norms, which has put them into a lot of hardship. Though the Assadi Commission gave its report on rehabilitation 7 years ago, nothing has moved further. The Government, which was supposed to provide rehabilitation for 3,418 displaced families, has ignored the High Court order on rehabilitation, he said.

Continuing, Nanachi demanded establishment of Child Care Centres in all Haadis (Hamlets) and deputation of Anganwadi workers. Urging the Government to reserve 6 MLA seats to Adivasis, he said the Government should cancel the tilling rights given to others for tilling Adivasi land and distribute Title Deeds to Adivasis and also establish an Adivasi Development Corporation.

Leaders Girija, P.K. Ramu, Harihara Anandaswamy, Dr. S. Srikanth, Shivanna, Gangadhar and others were took part in the protest demonstration.

Nypunya School's civic initiative for students

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (BS) - Nypunya School of Excellence in R.T. Nagar recently organised a civic awareness campaign for its students, taking them on a tour of various city localities. This initiative reflects the school's innovative approach to providing a platform for students to develop into responsible citizens.

During the campaign, students were exposed to issues such as footpath encroachment, unstable electric poles, potholes, waste management challenges, poorly maintained public toilets and violations of no-parking zones. The students documented these issues through both written notes in their books and recorded them on camera.

Seeking solutions, they sought guidance from their teachers, who accompanied them to relevant departments. Beyond academic education, fostering a socially aware citizen is an integral aspect of a comprehensive education system.

The campaign serves as a foundation for a forthcoming program titled 'Poura Pragne Nanna Karthavya-Prashnisuvudu Nanna Hakku' (Civic Awareness Is My Duty- Questioning Is My Right), as explained by the Conveners of the School Civic Awareness Campaign, S. Poojashree and H.M. Bhargavi.

Teachers S. Manjula, Elizabeth, Dechamma, Varsha, Archana, Rakshita, and Shubavati guided and accompanied the students during this initiative.

The District Administration had organised the programme to pay floral tributes to the statue of Ambedkar in Town Hall premises, where Bodhi Ratna Bhanteji of T. "When Ambedkar was conferred the title 'Bodhi Sattva' during a convention held at Kathmandu in Nepal in 1954, it was considered a historical event for a personality like Dr. Ambedkar was bestowed the honour during his lifetime, 2,500 years after Buddha. # Rise in human-animal conflict: Higher training for personnel

Belagavi, Dec. 6 (KMS&BCT)- Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre convened a meeting with Ministers K.J. George, N.S. Boseraju, MLAs A.S. Ponnanna and Dr. Manthar Gowda and other MLAs from Hassan and Chikkamagaluru along with officials from the Karnataka Forest Department (KFD) to address the escalating instances of human-elephant conflicts in the State. The meeting was held at Suvarna Soudha in Belagavi.

Khandre emphasised the need for enhanced training for all personnel of the Elephant Task Force, considering the fatalities of kumki elephants and KFD staff during wild elephant capture operations. He stressed that proper training for all Task Force members before participating in such operations is imperative.

To address human-wildlife conflict, Nodal Officers have been appointed in nine high-conflict districts, with instructions to spend at least two days per week in the assigned district to handle conflict situations.

Railway barricades have been identified as the current best solution to prevent wild elephants from reaching farmlands. Khandre mentioned that Rs. 100 crore has been allocated for this purpose and the installation of barricades is underway. Efforts are being made to secure additional funds for the project.

The Minister noted that since April, Karnataka has witnessed 43 fatalities in human-wildlife conflicts, with 30 attributed to elephant attacks. Chamarajanagar recorded 10 deaths, Kodagu reported seven, Ramanagara documented three, while Bengaluru, Mysuru, Hassan Circle and Shivamogga each recorded two, and one death was reported from other region.

Additionally, there were two deaths due to wild boar, one due to a crocodile attack, two due to bear attacks, three due to leopard attacks, four due to tiger attacks, and one due to a monkey bite.

Probe into Arjuna's death

Mahout's version: Conflicting reports from Forest Department officials and Mahouts have raised uncertainties about the events surrounding Arjuna's fatal encounter with a wild tusker in the Yeslur range. As the wild tusker approached the tamed elephants, Forest Department staff resorted to firing warning shots into the air.

According to the viral video testimony of a Mahout, Arjuna sustained injuries during this gunfire. The video featuring an alleged conversation between a Mahout and another individual has intensified the ambiguity, leading to calls for a thorough investigation.

In the video, the Mahout asserts that Forest Department officials unintentionally tranquilised Arjuna when attacked by the wild tusker, claiming their efforts to repel the intruder were unsuccessful. The Mahout noted that both the wild elephant and Arjuna were in musth condition, a heightened state of aggression.

The Mahout further mentions that another tamed elephant, Prashantha, was mistakenly darted during the incident but later rescued. Forest Department officials, however, have contradicted these accounts and with conflicting narratives persisting, the controversy surrounding Arjuna's death continues to deepen, prompting renewed demands for a comprehensive investigation.

Thousands bid tearful adieu to beloved Arjuna

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (MTY&BCT)- Thousands of people bid adieu to the Dasara elephant Arjuna yesterday at Dabballikatte in Sakleshpur taluk in Hassan district, where its last rites were performed with State Honours.

Arjuna died on Monday in a fight with a wild elephant, during an operation to capture the wild elephants at Yeslur Range in Hassan District. With the last rites, the magnificent era of Arjuna, who carried the Golden Howdah eight times during Dasara came to an end.

Even as the news broke about Arjuna's tragic death on Monday, hundreds of people came to see the final resting place of the illustrious elephant. The crowd swelled yesterday and many came from Hassan, Chikkamagaluru, Mysuru and Kodagu to pay their homage.

Grief-stricken crowd

The last rites were conducted with traditional rituals and a gun salute, making the State Honours. S.V. Prahlad Rao, a priest from the Mysore Palace, conducted the rituals. The carcass was garlanded and flower petals were showered on it. As a mark of respect, three rounds were fired in the air. A portion of the land was dug by an earthmover and the body was lowered to the pit and later covered with mud.

Prior to burial, Arjuna's tusks were extracted and are currently under the secure care of the Forest Department. The Mahouts, Kavadis and their families, who had devoted years to caring for Arjuna, were overcome with grief.

Vinu, Arjuna's mahout, was visibly distraught, weeping and attempting to rouse the tusker, eliciting a shared emotional response from the onlookers. The disbelief that Arjuna was gone weighed heavily on him. Forest officials found themselves grappling to suppress their own tears in the face of the poignant scene.

Earlier in the day, villagers and members of various associations held a protest, urging Forest Department officials to carry out Arjuna's last rites in a more suitable location at Balle Elephant Camp where it was spending its retired life. They voiced demands for the suspension of officers deemed responsible for Arjuna's death during the operation. The Police had to resort to lathi charge to disperse the angry mob.

Mysuru Additional Deputy Commissioner R. Lokanath placed a wreath on Arjuna, as a mark of respect from the Mysuru District Administration. Hassan Deputy Commissioner C. Satyabhama, Additional Chief Conservator of Forests (Project Elephant) Saswati Mishra, Chief Conservator of Forests R. Ravishankar, SP Mohammad Sujeetha, Deputy Conservator of Forests D. Mohan Kumar and others were present.

'Kodava/Kodavaru' in Caste Certificate instead of 'Kodagaru'

Gazette Notification issued to implement Cabinet decision

Now Kodavas or Kodavaru, belonging to a separate identifiable community in Caste Certificate, will be eligible for certain benefits of reservation which otherwise would not be available to this community. This will also help a 'Kodava' to get the privilege of exemption from licence to possess a gun.

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (BCT)- Four months after the Siddharamaiah Cabinet agreed to mention as 'Kodava/ Kodavaru' in the Caste Certificate, instead of 'Kodagaru' who are currently listed in the 3a Category, the State Government has issued a Gazette Notification implementing the order. Now Kodavas or Kodavaru, belonging to a separate identifiable community in Caste Certificate, will be eligible for certain benefits of reservation which otherwise would not be available to this community. This will also help a 'Kodava' to get the privilege of exemption from licence to possess a gun.

The State Cabinet, on July 27, 2023 accepted the recommendations made by the Karnataka Backward Classes Commission to use the words 'Kodava', 'Kodavaru', instead of 'Kodagaru' in the list of Backward Classes and issued a notification in this regard. Though the Government Order (signed by the Governor's Office) was issued on 9.10.2023, the Gazette Notification was not made. It is now made yesterday (5.12.2023).

The Commission, after a thorough study, in 2005 and 2010, had recommended the Government to use 'Kodava' and 'Kodavaru' in Kannada and 'Codava', 'Codavaru' in English, instead of 'Kodagaru' in the 3a Category list.

Following the non-implementation of the Commission recommendations, the Codava National Council (CNC) filed a Writ Petition in the Karnataka High Court and on Dec. 8, 2021, the Court directed the State Government to accept the recommendations made by the Commission within three months.

As per the Gazette Notification issued on 5.12.2023, henceforth, the Caste Certificate that will be issued to the Kodava community will mention 'Kodava' both in English and Kannada versions.

CNC urges Revenue Dept. to make changes in software to implement order

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (BCT)- The Codava National Council (CNC) that has relentlessly fought for over 14 years for the inclusion of 'Kodava/ Kodavaru' in the Caste Certificate, instead of 'Kodagaru,' has urged the State Government to make the relevant changes in the software to fully implement the Government decision.

CNC President Nandineravanda U. Nachappa said that though the Cabinet has accepted the recommendations from the Karnataka State Backward Commission and ordered the change from 'Kodava' and 'Kodavaru' instead of 'Kodagaru', the order has not been fed to the computer systems. Still, the Caste Certificates are being issued as 'Kodagaru' instead of 'Kodava', impacting the cultural and social values of the Kodava community.

In a memorandum submitted to Kodagu Deputy Commissioner yesterday, Nachappa urged the State Government to ask the Revenue Department to make changes in the software for the change to be physically reflected on the Caste Certificates.

Mentioning the legal battle fought by the CNC in the Karnataka High Court, Nachappa said that despite the Court order in December 2021, the Government has not taken the genuine demand of the Kodava community for consideration and implementation. "This is an administrative and Constitutional breach where the aspirations of a small community have been ignored," he said.

Nachappa has urged the Government to clear the software hurdle to fully implement the order so that the mention of 'Kodava' in Caste Certificates becomes a reality.

Guest Lecturers stir enters fifth day

But despite service for long, the Government is yet to regularise our service. We have been working without any job security for years," they said and urged the Government to consider their demands seriously and thus come to their aid, with many of them on the fringe of retirement.

Guest Lecturers Association President G.V. Ramesh, Office-bearers Kempananjappa, Dr. Venkatesh, M.V. Vinayak, Nagarjuna and others took part in the stir.

Special Court to hear Prof. Kalburgi, Gauri Lankesh's murder cases

Prof. Kalburgi Gauri Lankesh

Mysuru, Dec. 6 (Agencies)- The State Government today announced to set up a Special Court to hear the high-profile murder cases of prominent Kannada researcher Prof. M.M. Kalburgi and journalist Gauri Lankesh,

This follows a letter by Kavitha Lankesh, sister of Gauri Lankesh, expressing concern about the prolonged delay in trial and to appoint a full-time Judge and expedite the hearing to take the case to its logical end.

Following this, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah issued directions to Additional Chief Secretary, Internal Administration Department to take measures in this regard.

Both Prof. Kalburgi and Gauri Lankesh were known for their vocal activism against right-wing ideologies and were assassinated in separate incidents. Kalburgi was shot in his house at Dharwad on Aug. 30, 2015, while Gauri was gunned down outside her house in Rajarajeshwari Nagar, Bengaluru on Sept. 5, 2017.

She mesmerised with her voice

Spoorti Rao from Bengaluru presenting a music concert at GSSS in Mysuru on Nov. 25. She is accompanied by H.N. Bhaskar on violin, K.V. Prasad on mridanga and Sharat Rao on ghata.

Young Spoorti Rao from Bengaluru sang at GSSS, Mysuru, on Nov. 25. She was accompanied by H.N. Bhaskar on violin, senior mridangist K.V. Prasad on mridanga and Sharat Rao on ghata.

Even at the tender age of nine, this lass won the fourth season of the Airtel Super Singer Junior Award and as the winner, was awarded a Townhouse in Oragadam worth Rs. 70 lakh. It is a big solace to see that though this girl sings light music and playback songs, her classical music is not influenced by these, thanks to her gurus — Ranjani and Gayatri.

Spoorti commenced the concert with the popular Daru Varna of Muthiah Bhagavathar — 'Maate Malayadhwaja Pandya Sanjaate' in Kamas. Her music blends melody and cadence in a good proportion and this aspect sets her performance apart. Her elaborate delineation of the Raga Keeravani bore an eloquent testimony to it. 'Innamum Sandeha Padalamo' by Gopalakrishna Bharathi in Tamil saw a detailed neraval at the anupallavi followed by elegant swaras.

'Ninnuvina namadi' by Sri Tyagaraja, though more popular on instruments than in vocal music, was beautifully sung. All the expected sangatis materialised and the brigas were crystal clear even in the racing speed of the presentation.

The other main item of the day was Latangi. The raga was dealt with in detail, step by step, unhurriedly pausing in each nyasa swara, exploring and dwelling in with more possibilities. Spoorti's voice traverses with ease in the tara sthayi and her singing in the upper notes has a striking similarity to her Guru Gayatri's voice and singing.

Spoorti surprised the audience with a Purandaradasa devaranama taken for detailed delineation in this raga. 'Bharathi Deviya nene' by Sri Purandaradasa set to tune by Aravinda Hebbar in Adi Tala, which is normally sung in a different raga was very pleasant to hear in Keeravani but most of the sahitya was not heard. Spoorti can work more on sahitya.

Other inclusions in the concert were Saraswati Namostute (with swarakalpana at 'Suravita padayugale', a very melodious 'Jagadeeshwari Brahma Hrudayeshwari Shringeri Peethaste Shri Sharadamba' in Ragesri by Ramamurthy Rao, Subramanya Bharateeyar's 'Chinnachiru Kiliye kannamma' in ragamalika on audience request and the concluding abhang in chandrakauns 'pandariche bhoota mothe'.

Having Bhaskar on violin is a blessing for any vocalist. He not only follows the main artiste faithfully but also plays in a supportive manner so as to embellish and enhance the main artiste. K.V. Prasad's playing was very encouraging to the young artiste and brought huge applauses from the audience again and again, especially so in his Taniyavartanam with young Sharat Kaushik's ghata.

Vidwan V. Mahesh, Founder of Sri Sharadha Nruthya Kala Shaale, Chamarajanagar, along with his disciples, presented 'Nritya Vaibhava,' a Bharatanatyam feature, much to the delight of the audience. His disciples danced gracefully for 'Aigiri nandini', 'Ashtalakshmi stotra' and other dance numbers.

WORD OF THE DAY

Bifurcate

Pronunciation: BYE-fer-kayt.
Meaning: When something bifurcates, it divides into two branches or parts; to bifurcate something is to divide it into two branches or parts.
Origin: Yogi Berra, the baseball great who was noted for his head-scratching quotes, is purported to have said, "When you come to a fork in the road, take it." Berra's advice might not offer much help when you're making tough decisions in life, but perhaps it will help you remember bifurcate. A road that bifurcates splits in two, like the one in Berra's adage. Other things can bifurcate (or be bifurcated) as well, such as an organisation that splits, or is split, into two factions. Bifurcate comes from the Latin adjective bifurcus, meaning "two-pronged," a combination of the prefix bi- ("two") and the noun furca ("fork"). Furca, as you may have guessed, is also an ancestor of fork, which refers to the handy utensil that can (in a pinch) help us—as Berra might say—to cut our pizza in four pieces when we're not hungry enough to eat six.
Example: "Over time, the English ... became more powerful, spreading from Virginia to Maryland to Carolina (not yet bifurcated) ..." — Scott W. Stern, The New Republic, 26 June 2023.

THE ODD WORD

Balbriggan

Knitted cotton fabric.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Bats in the belfry

Meaning: You use the expression "Bats in the belfry" to indicate that someone is acting eccentric or crazy.
Origin: Although the phrase "Bats in the belfry" has a very old-fashioned ring to it, the term originated in late 19th or early 20th century in America. A very early example comes from an October 1900 edition of an Ohio newspaper called The Newark Daily Advocate: "To his hundreds of friends and acquaintances in Newark, these puerile and senseless attacks on Hon. John W. Casssingham are akin to the vaporings of the fellow with a large flock of bats in his belfry."
Example: 'Wanda has bats in the belfry; she seems to think that the mailman is trying to steal her cat!'
